

CNFJ/CNRJ COVID-19 Fact Sheet

Last updated May 1, 2020

Commander's Message

I've said it many times and will continue to do so: this fight requires all hands. 99% is not good enough against this enemy. We must continue to work to reach that remaining 1%. That said, my comments for this fact sheet highlight the phenomenal teamwork we have seen from the 99%! Everyone who follows best health practices, restricts their movements, and observes proper social distancing is acting selflessly for the health of our entire community. These personal actions build on each other and make the larger fight winnable. Each and every one of you should recognize your important role on this team and your invaluable contributions. Employees at services that remain open – our commissaries, Navy Exchanges, gas stations, and takeout food service – are working tirelessly to provide for this team, and their contributions are absolutely vital to keeping our team moving forward. This team even extends to our sister services. Yokota Air Base has opened its doors to Navy Sailors to support a complex plan that ensures the deployable health of our warships to operate. Everywhere I look, I see these heartening examples of teamwork - proof of this Navy community's commitment to our families, our fleet, and our Sailors. This is not easy for any of us. Thank you for your sacrifice. It does not go unnoticed!
